

I understand the FCC is considering replacing national and/or regional services heard on FM translators with LPFM stations. I believe this would hurt a lot of small communities that cannot afford to support a station with quality programming like K-LOVE. K-LOVE is family oriented programming that will be completely lost and not replaced by another family oriented station. This is detrimental to young people and families. K-LOVE promotes positive, upstanding family values. This type of programming is difficult to find in media today. Please do not take away this wonderful way of communicating.
